Led with expert engineering, and always ready to face the depths, no feat or occasion will ever be too great for Invicta's Subaqua to handle. The sheer magnitude of this mighty timepiece is superbly executed with surgical-grade solid stainless steel, Swiss automatic movements, and multiple color options of ionic plating. Managing up to 500 meters of water, finished off with a unidirectional rotating bezel, integrated shock resistance, and Invicta's luminous Tritnite® hands, the Subaqua is the diver's definitive in negotiating any adventure by sea or by land.

COLLECTION

Keeping Swiss Time Since 1837.

Reaching back through time, Invicta's Vintage collection captures the stylish elegance of the past and places it firmly on the wrist of the present. The result of this synthesis includes the original Invicta IV logo dating from 1837, exhibition case backs, antique finished dials, Roman numerals, alarm functions, leather straps or stainless steel bracelets. Evocative of classic European watch making yet striking the perfect balance between the past and future, the very best of the old and new world meet here at the point of Vintage.

A summon to all stunning sirens. Ever true to the very essence of the source for inspiration, the Invicta Wildflower collection is most deserving of female attention. Capturing the contradictions of its muse, the timepieces of the Wildflower line are flawlessly integrated representations of elegance and strength. Realized with features including diamonds, gemstones, mother of pearl, textured or pave dials and Swiss movements, Invicta boldly embraced the paradox and has indeed found brilliance in the bloom.
