Subaqua NOMA VI

Scaling New Heights With Profound Depth.

Fearless aspects in design are matched with outstanding performance. The Invicta Subaqua NOMA VI is the next generation in revolutionary technology. Inheriting the essence of the Invicta Subaqua Sea Dragon, a unique focus has been realized.

With an emphasis on the crown and pushers, the model features a distinct and textured "scale" effect on both the bezel and center bracelet links of the band.

The crown and pushers are screw-down allowing pressure depths of up to an impressive 500 meters. When the crown and pushers are not pressurized and become active, an internal aluminum signal warning plate is displayed through the individual 6 columns that guides and connects the top activation button to the bottom protective cocoon. Each crown and pusher is made of 9 separate pieces, which are carefully and painstakingly assembled by the Invicta watch masters.

The Invicta Subaqua NOMA IV: Exceptional engineering and construction take the experience of time to an entirely new level.
